Says Thought Wife Trading All Right

At Salem, Mass., Tuesday of this week, Raymond S. Lee testified there had been a "friendly arrangement by which we swapped wives," between himself and Calvin M. Watson, tree surgeon. He said he thought it was "all right."

Watson is suing his wife, in the double action involving the two families.

Mrs. Raymond S. Lee, a principal in the case, whose petition for divorce on the ground of infidelity was uncontested, branded as "a pack of lies" the marital exchange testimony of her husband.

CONVENTION OF STATE TRAFFIC SAFETY BODIES

The 1938 state convention of the State Traffic Safety Commission will be held January 28 and 29 in Fresno, Ray Ingels, state director of motor vehicles and chairman of the commission, announced this week.

In the convention, to which representatives of all safety organizations will be invited, the delegates will discuss plans for a co-ordinated safety drive during 1938.

The convention slogan will be "Death Is The Problem."

The State Traffic Safety Commission was organized several years ago by Governor Frank F. Merriam to aid in promoting safe driving campaigns. Members of the commission include the heads of a number of state departments and representatives of civic organizations interested in promoting highway safety.

GAS WELL GOES WILD IN WILLOWS DURING RECENT SEARCH FOR OIL

From a crater 150 feet wide, millions of cubic feet of natural gas and thousands of acre feet of mud and water were spouted as high as 30 feet in the air as a "proposed" oil well blew in near Willows, Cal., recently. Officials of an oil company drilling at the site said the derrick and equipment valued at $100,000 were a total loss. State highwaymen maintained a closed area within a radius of a mile, because of the danger of fire and flying debris. Some hours later the "gusher" calmed down. Photo shows the mud shooting into the air.

GIRL SCOUTS ARE ADVANCED FOR GOOD SERVICE

Another Court Of Awards Is Soon To Be Held For Further Promotions

Six girls of Girl Scout Troop No. 2 received their Second Class badges; one girl received the honor of Tenderfoot Scout and one girl was welcomed into Troop 2 through transfer during the Court of Awards which was held by the members of Troop 2, Saturday evening of last week.

The six girls who received their Second Class badges were: Mary Hill, Martha Preciado, Joyce Lemon, Betty Inks, Rose Siragusa and Alice Forest. Wilda Heath was the girl accepted into the troop through transfer and Patsy Lloyd, 103 Capitol avenue, San Francisco, was the one who had passed her Tenderfoot tests successfully and received her Girl Scout pin.

As several other girls of the troop have almost completed their Second Class tests, another Court of Awards will be held tomorrow evening, at which time the girls who have qualified will receive their badges.

At present the Girl Scouts are busy planning and working toward their "Festival of Youth," which is to take place some time in the early spring and will be given jointly with the Boy Scouts and Cubs of Troop No. 141.

Employes Are Given Raises In Salaries

This week 150 city employes of San Jose were given salary raises totaling $12,000.

The City Council voted the money Tuesday evening after petitions signed by hundreds of people requesting the raise had been presented at its meeting.

ASK YOURSELF HOW TO KEEP DRIVING SAFE

Press reports indicate that the fatality record on the highways of the United States for 1937 was the worst in history. A final analysis, considering number of miles traveled by all the registered vehicles, may show that the total is no worse than the previous year.

Whatever the complete report, the number of preventable accidents and the loss of life on our highways is a definite reproach to the people of this country.

Organized safety methods have saved the lives of thousands of industrial workers. Safety is everybody's business; it is your business and mine. Ask yourself how you can keep yourself out of accidents and how you can prevent others from getting involved in them.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

Death Caused By Accidental Fall

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Bolger and sons of Risel street attended the funeral of Edward Rivers of Folsom street, Wednesday morning of this week.

The deceased, who was brother in law of Mrs. Bolger, sustained a fractured skull, Thursday evening of last week, and passed away in St. Mary's Hospital the following Sunday morning. Death resulted from a hemorrhage of the brain.

The accident occurred when the young man missed the first step of a long flight of stairs and alighted on his head at his place of employment.

BONDS ARE APPROVED

Under approval of a bond issue of $125,000, early this week, extension of San Rafael High School's plant to include an art department, manual training shop and other equipment will be made possible.

DEPARTMENT OF WELFARE HELPS WAGE EARNERS

The department has reported that through the activities of the Division of Industrial Welfare during the month of December, 1937, $8441.74 was added to the earnings of women and minors in California. Of this amount wage adjustments collected totaled $3133.25 and affected 377 workers. In plants operating on a piece rate basis in the fruit and vegetable canning industry and in the nut cracking and sorting industry $5308.49 was reported as audit adjustments and paid and added to the earnings of 1651 women and minor employes.

During December, 77 complaints received from workers regarding non-payment of wages and improper working conditions were investigated and adjusted. Complaints concerning hours of labor over the legal maximum were referred to the Bureau of Labor, as that is the enforcing body of the eight hour law for women and minors.

Outside inspections, investigations and audits during December totaled 738.

To Hold District Meet In Daly City

Daly City Unit No. 410, American Legion Auxiliary, will meet Wednesday evening of next week. There will be a class initiation conducted by the drill team of the Twenty-sixth District. Several distinguished guests will be present.

January is legislative month. Many measures now before Congress are of vital interest to the organization and are being watched very carefully. Telegrams were sent to California Senators and Congressmen last week pertaining to the Universal Service Act.

The regular meeting of the Twenty-sixth District will be held this evening, Friday, at 8:15 in Daly City Legion Hall.

BIRTHDAY BALL PREPARATIONS GOING FORWARD

General Meeting Held And Plans Outlined—Daly City Mayor Appoints Citizens On Local Committee

A committee of prominent residents to take charge of ticket sales in Daly City for the annual President's Birthday Ball to be held January 29 at Tanforan clubhouse, San Bruno, was appointed this week by Mayor Paul Selmi.

Named to the committee were Mrs. Horace Fellows, Mrs. Ann Eason, A. G. K. Jakobsen, Councilman Julius Twesten, Jack Cosbie and Police Chief James Reardon.

Plans for the county-wide celebration for the aid of infantile paralysis sufferers were furthered Monday at a meeting of vice chairmen with General Chairman Joseph V. Gaffey in San Mateo. An executive committee to take charge of general arrangements was selected as follows:

Mayor Selmi; Mayor V. W. Hives, Jack Lynch and City Treasurer Frank Bloom, Burlingame; Mayor Frank P. Simmen, Justice of the Peace Hugh Mullin and Richard McAllister, president of the County Central Labor Council, San Mateo; Paul Lowe, Redwood City; Postmaster Joseph Quinlan, South San Francisco; Justice of the Peace M. J. Bettencourt, Half Moon Bay, and Councilman Irving F. Dunn, Menlo Park.

Bloom was selected as treasurer for the ball and Joe Cuneo, Half Moon Bay, and Councilman Dave McCullough, San Mateo, were asked to arrange for a floor show.

MORE CONFLICT IN COUNTY JOB CONSOLIDATION

Charter Amendments Recently Adopted Silent On the Matter Now In Controvesy

There seems to be some difference of opinion among well informed citizens as to the exact status of the controversy over the position of county purchasing agent.

That the consolidation measure is in violation of the amendments adopted by the people at the special election June 22 of this year was the statement of Colonel Frederick Peterson of Burlingame, former assemblyman and author of the amendments.

Effect of the amendments, once they are ratified by the forthcoming special legislature, on the purchasing agent-executive merger, "raises a new question to be settled," Peterson stated.

"The people had no intention of making the office of purchasing agent elective when they approved the charter changes last year.

"This is exactly what has been done by consolidating the purchaser's job with that of the executive.

"Under the charter as amended, the purchaser remains an appointive official. The county executive be-

Local Branch Of Committee For Political Unity Asks For Favorable Action From Representatives

William J. Plunkert, state executive secretary of the California Committee for Political Unity, was present at the last meeting held by the Daly City Political Unity Club, which is a branch of the state-wide organization. Although only of recent origin, the Daly City Club for Political Unity has a fast growing membership and was well attended at the meeting held, Wednesday of last week, at the home of F. W. Kent.

During the course of business, the members of the club passed a resolution for the support of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's legislative program, and it was ordered that a communication be sent to Congressman McGrath, Senator Hiram Johnson and Senator William McAdoo voicing approval of the President's message to Congress and asking that they work toward passing of the necessary legislation asked for by the President at this session of Congress and calling on them to give the New Deal the support the people demand of its representatives in Congress.

Before the meeting was closed a delegate was chosen to represent the Daly City Branch of the Cailfornia Committee for Political Unity at the meeting to be held in Redwood City, Wednesday of next week.

The next meeting of the local branch of the club will be held at 252 Los Banos avenue, on January 26 at eight o'clock. All progressive Daly City citizens are invited to attend.

The battle occurred at a shooting gallery, where officers trailed the trio after a double holdup.

PLANE MYSTERY

The rusted wreckage of a single-seat, all-metal plane was washed on the beach five miles north of Oceanside, this week.

A short distance from the wreckage was a portion of a human skull, which investigators thought probably was that of the pilot of the mysterious craft.

AIR SPECTACLE IS TO BE FEATURED AT DALY CITY

United States Navy Co-Operates In Production Of Sensational Film

"Hell Divers," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sensational romance of naval aviation, which will open Sunday at the Daly City Theater, combines the most remarkable airplane maneuvers ever staged by the navy with a dramatic plot that, with all its romantic qualities, has something heroic in it.

The picture co-stars Wallace Beery and Clark Gable, the latter having risen to stellar rank as a result of his outstanding popularity in "Susan Lenox," "A Free Soul" and other films. Prominent supporting roles are filled by Conrad Nagel, Dorothy Jordan, Marjorie Rambeau, Marie Prevost, Cliff Edwards and John Miljan. Beery, a government licensed aviator, actually participates in some of the unusual flying stunts shown in the picture.

The story deals with the rivalry between Beery, as a navy veteran, and Gable, a new style of sailor, and typifies the conflict between old and new ideas in naval operations. The central romance is between Beery and Miss Rambeau, as a keeper of a Panama resort, who has waited years for "her man." The original story is by Lieutenant Commander Frank Wead, with screen play by Harvey Gates and Malcolm Stuart Boylan. In the climax, Beery gives his life in rescuing his rival, in line of duty, carrying on the true spirit of the navy.

Among the dramatic highlights are the breaking up of Gable and his sweetheart through Beery's practical joke, and the founding of the enmity between them.

Pine Trees Do Well When "Kept On Ice"

Freezing weather may be hard on citrus and other kinds of trees, but a little freezing does pines and some others no harm, and may be positively beneficial.

It has been demonstrated that it is possible to move quite large trees in warm weather by means of packing the roots with dry ice. Now comes news of 800 pine trees, two-year-old knobcone and Coulter pines, which are actually being "kept on ice" in a Pasadena ice house at a temperature of 32 degrees.

These trees were formerly in nurseries, destined for planting in the Big Pines Recreation Park, where they will have to be ready to stand snow and low temperatures. It seemed unwise to leave the trees in the ground until the snow melted, for then the new growth of roots would have started and these new roots are tender and easily injured. Consequently, the trees were dug up and placed in the ice house late in January. The low temperature has kept the root growth dormant. It has thus facilitated planting at the right time, and also toughened the young trees so that they will probably withstand more easily the rigors of their new home when they are planted in the mountains.

POPULAR PLAY RETURN FOR TWO MORE STAGINGS

"The Cricket On The Hearth" To Be Brought Back To Alcazar Next Week

The phenomenal success during the holidays of the Federal Theater production of Charles Dickens' "The Cricket On The Hearth" has resulted in the yielding by the Project management to requests from hundreds for a restaging of the play. It will again be produced on the stage of the Alcazar Theater for a two nights run only, Monday and Tuesday, January 17 and 18.

The same cast that played in the original production will again be seen next Monday and Tuesday nights. "Cricket On The Hearth" was adapted for the theater by Gilmor Brown, founder of the Pasadena Community Theater. The poignant appeal of the story was an instant success. Mr. Brown attended a dress rehearsal of the San Francisco production and enthusiastically stamped it with his approval.

Men always looking for sympathy need a swift kick properly placed.

The office in the City Hall building for the Daly City Recreational Project has been completed, the recreational staff being quartered for both boys and girls with several special days being included in the plan for the near future.

HISTORY UNDER THE EARTH!

With December a runner-up for the New Year, California marches toward the future—while her explorers and anthropologists stride continuously, at thousand year leaps, into her distant past!

Close on the heels of the discovery, recently ,at Lodi of the skeletal remains of the first Californians, comes word of another startling discovery—that of a gigantic grotto in Kern County, buried under the hills.

In the first flush of enthusiasm, descriptions of the vast underground cavern may have run to exaggeration. Yet news reports indicate that this sprawling underground network of tunnels and caves may enable California to challenge the celebrated caves of other states—in case anyone believes we haven't a rich enough store of scenic attractions now!

That the cavern is of ancient lineage is indicated by its glistening spires of stalagmites and stalactites. Infinitely patient scientific observation has disclosed that it takes some 4000 years for one of these weird spires to reach a length of seven feet.

There is the possibility, too, that in this network of subterranean caverns may lie the family records of Californians as ancient as those recently unearthed at Lodi. And those people lived here hundreds of years before the golden name of California drew the first white explorers to these shores in the sixteenth century.

THE DAIRY INDUSTRY

A short time ago "National Milk Week" was observed throughout the country. The week involved two significant factors.

First, no food is more essential to the preservation of health than dairy products. Second, dairy products constitute our principal agricultural crop, and the largest source of farm cash income.

Thus, an increase in the consumption of milk, cheese and butter means a higher standard of living for all the people and a more healthful race, and, at the same time, is of the utmost benefit to agriculture. It stimulates farm income, which is felt throughout all industry in increased rural purchasing power.

WINTER WONDERLAND

California has readied itself for the biggest winter sports season in years! In the Coast Range and in the Sierra Nevadas, mountain roads have been rebuilt and resurfaced, new trails cleared through, new ski tows installed, and mountain lodgings made spic and span.

Bring on Mr. Snowman! California is ready to greet him!

LABOR ON THE GRIDIRON!

Those University of Pittsburgh football players who demanded $150 to $200 to play in the Rose Bowl game—and were refused—may have jolted sports traditions.

Even so, they were following a tradition centuries older than that one. Football is hard work, as no one will deny. "So," asked the Panthers with disarming frankness, "isn't a laborer still worthy of his hire?"

OBSERVATION OF VARIOUS THINGS IN OUR CAPITAL

Speculation Is Rife At This Early Date As To The Probable Presidential Nominee In 1940

(By Hart Goodrich)

With the election of 1940 still years in the future, Washington, which is always thinking and talking poliitics and looking well ahead while doing both, already is eyeing possible candidates.

The national capital has had a great deal of experience in these things and does not forget that frequently the most likely looking possibilities do not get the final nominations when the showdown comes. There was James K. Polk, for example, whose name even was unknown to many delegates to the convention of 1844 who nominated him. Warren G. Harding was chosen as a last minute compromise from the bitter deadlock in 1920. James A. Garfield in 1880 became President in the same way.

Around the bar at the National Press Club—a fount of political wisdom as well as refreshment—it has become axiomatic that the candidate for nomination who gets out in front too early will be among the also-rans when the state delegations begin parading. That accounts for the present shyness of many who secretly nurture strong ambitions. In politics, as in stagecraft, everything depends on proper timing.

In so far as Democrats are concerned, the big question is, "Will President Roosevelt run again?" Washington opinion on the subject is divided, many holding that the President's penchant for smashing precedent, as well as his desire to complete his program, will lead him to accept or seek a third nomination. But a greater number believe that he will not run, but will endeavor, and probably with success, to play a large role in the selection of his successor.

As it looks now any one of the following might get the President's blessing: Senator Alben Barkley, the majority leader in the Upper House; Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Governor Murphy of Michigan, Governor Earle of Pennsylvania, Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator, and Secretary of Interior Ickes.

Then there are other possibilities in the Democratic ranks, such as Jesse Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, James M. Landis, former chief of the Securities and Exchange Commission and now dean of the Harvard Law School; young, outspoken Maury Maverick, Representative from Texas, and former Governor McNutt of Indiana, now on duty for the Government in the Philippines.

Somewhere in that list there may be the name of the man who will head the Democratic ticket for President in 1940. But remember James K. Polk, who wasn't considered seriously for President even a week before he was nominated!

DRUIDS HONOR GRAND OFFICERS

Grand Arch Druidess Sadie Meyer and her staff of grand officers paid her official visit to Hillcrest Circle No. 143, United Ancient Order of Druids, on Monday evening of this week. Before a large audience the degree team, under the direction of Mrs. Sue Hopman, initiated a large class of candidates. The work of the Order was well exemplified. The escort team and the Past Arch Druidess presented the Grand Arch Druidess with a bouquet of roses and escorted her to her seat of honor.

Gifts were presented to the Grand Arch Druidess, our own Grand Officer, Madeliene Fellows, Captain of the Team Sue Hopman, the organizer of the circle, Madame Lombard, Dora Holmberg and Rose Watson.

The banquet hall looked inviting, dressed up in many colored dolls made by Mrs. Nellie EsColoses and her committee. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Grace Hill and her committee.

The honor guests included Grand Arch Druidess Sadie Meyer, Grande First Bard Celine Smith, Grand Conductress Madeliene Fellows, Grand Guardian Minnie Lino, Grand Sentinel Josephine Ghilarducci, Grand Treasurer Catherine Kennedy, Grand Trustee Mary Chiama, Past Grand Arch Druidesses Carrie Kelleher and Mary Neill, and Grand Chief Druid Frank Bush.

GEOLOGIC FIELD SURVEY IS TO BE MADE IN NORTH

Two Geological Parties Are Expected To Report Findings Of Investigation In 1938

Although details of the proposed field work in British Columbia during the 1938 season by the Dominion Geological Survey are not likely to be announced until the latter part of March, it is generally believed that at least one, and possibly two, field parties will undertake further work in the Zeballos area, on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Engineers and prospectors, returning from the area are unanimous in agreeing that further work along those lines should be carried out as soon as possible.

The most recent work carried out on the west coast of the island was done by Dr. M. F. Bancroft in 1935 with the assistance of H. L. Hammersley and R. M. Mathers. It embraced an area of some 3500 square miles in a strip of land running approximately from the Alberni canal northward beyond the Zeballos district.

General Work

In 1902 Haycock and Webster worked along this section of the coast when interest in copper deposits was high, and later, in 1920, Dr. Victor Dolmage completed a shore line mapping of the geology between Quatsino and Barkley Sounds, gathering information on various deposits of sulphides and mercury and manganese. In 1932 H. C. Gunning reported on the Zeballos area off Esperanza Inlet.

All this work, it is pointed out, however, was of a general nature and before the possibilities of good commercial gold deposits were uncovered at the headwaters of the Zeballos River. And it is here, engineers feel, that detailed work should be done and at the same time extend the present geological boundaries to the north and to the south as far as it is practicable.

Chief interest today, is in the granodiorite stock often referred to as the Zeballos Batholith, which strikes in a northwestern direction and is irregular in width. It occurs in the volcanics and includes limestone, tuffs, breccia, flows, agillites and granite dykes.

Followed Fifteen Miles

Like many other parts of the province, the batholith is not a true granodiorite, but is impregnated with numerous varieties of diorite.

Various limestones lie to the northeast and southwest of the main stock which has been followed for more than 15 miles and extensively staked, particularly during the past year.

The most favorable areas today are said to lie in the narrow necks of the granodiorite stock and along the contacts, and oddly enough it was this same stock that was somewhat avoided in prospecting the island in the early days. So far as is known, the batholith varies in width from two to four miles.

Veins occur both in the volcanics and the granodiorite. This is evident from work done at two of the more advanced properties. The Goldfields mine of A. B. Trites is, so far entirely in the granodiorite while the Van Isle property of the Man O' War Gold Mining Company is in the volcanics.

Persistent Veins

At the Privateer mine, on the other hand, the first discovery was made in the volcanics and later followed into the granodiorite without any appreciable change in the high-grade metal content of the vein.

The veins that have been exposed up to the present are remarkable for their persistent northeast-southwest strike and dip, well up towards the vertical.

Gold occurrences of the quartz-sulphide type have been found both in shears and fissures with pyrites the predominating sulphide. Gouge next to the vein is white and like the altered granodiorite contains some sericite and pyrite, while talc is also common in the wells and as vein filling.

While the Gold Peak showing is characterized by a narrow, high-grade streak in the well mineralized vein material, which indicated a possibility of good tonnage over the whole width, the values in the gold-field vein are mainly confined to the quartz-pyrite which averages 20 inches in width and is minable across three feet.

The North Star group, owned by Trites, has in drifting and crosscutting disclosed a series of closely spaced shears and which it is hoped will be minable over the entire width of the sheared zone, making for a large tonnage operation.—Vancouver Sun.

Captain Musick, Six Others Die In Samoan Clipper Crash

Plunging in flames into the Pacific, the Samoan Clipper sank into the graveyard of lost planes January 12, carrying to their deaths Captain Edward C. Musick and six other officers. Within sight of its port, Pago Pago, to which it was returning on three motors, the huge flying boat burst into flames as gasoline was being discharged for a landing. Bits of wreckage were all that was retrieved, naval craft reported. The veteran Clipper pilot, who inaugurated far-flung routes for the Pan-American system, and who flew 1,500,000 miles of ocean without untoward incident, is pictured above with his wife after his return from a recent flight to the Alameda, Cal., base.

Art And Music Is Integrated In School

Music was the theme for the art lesson in two of the art classes, this week, at the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School. "Rochmaninoff Waltz in C Sharp Minor" and "Midsummer Night's Dream," by Mendelssohn, were played for Music Appreciation.

As the music was rendered the students took musical notes. These were in turn interpreted in colored designs and pictures. The results were quite outstanding and the children enjoyed the affair exceedingly.

NEXT FEATURE AT SHOW HOUSE AN OUTSTANDING HIT

"Yes, My Darling Daughter," Depicts Headstrong Girl In Pre-Marital Romance

"Yes, My Darling Daughter," an outstanding hit in New York for nine months, will be the attraction at the Geary Theater for three weeks beginning Monday night, January 17.

Florence Reed is featured in the role of a wise and witty mother of today. This comedy is scheduled to make a cross country tour which will include all the principal cities.

"Yes, My Darling Daughter," is by Mark Reed, the author of "Petticoat Fever" and is presented by Alfred de Liagre Jr., well known Broadway producer and director. A distinguished cast has been assembled to play with Florence Reed and includes Lawrence Grossmith, who came from England especially to play the role of a literary agent, once the lover of the mother in the comedy; Agnes Doyle, Boyd Davis, Helen Flint, Owen Davis Jr., son of the famous playwright and Janice Hanford.

Its two attractive scenes show a wealthy Connecticut home on Long Island Sound which is being disturbed by the fact that its only daughter is about to run off for a pre-marital week end. Mrs. Murray, once an ardent feminist, played by Miss Reed, finds it difficult to dissuade her child from this adventure since the daughter has discovered that mother's past had itself been unconventional. In scenes that are at once delightfully funny and tenderly poignant, the two generations conflict on the subject of modern morals. The mother manages with wit and wisdom to placate an irate husband and with subtle maneuvering to direct her daughter's behavior. Part of the charm of the play lies in the fact that it contrasts the Bohemian atmosphere of Greenwich Village with the dignified savoir-faire of established wealth.

"Yes, My Darling Daughter" is a comedy that appeals alike to parents and children and, indeed, to anyone interested in youth's reaction to an adult world.

The play was staged and directed by the producer and the sets were designed by Raymond Sovey.

HAYWIRE PLAY MEETS FONDEST EXPECTATIONS

Points Moral That All 'Queer' People Are Not Confined In Sanitariums

If "Nude With Pineapple," the nutty comedy which opened at the Alcazar Theater Thursday night, January 12, does not meet with the acclaim of San Francisco theater goers and critics alike it will be a great surprise to this reviewer. It is by far the funniest and most unusual play that has been staged in San Francisco in many moons and it so struck the capacity audience that filled the Alcazar opening night.

The story deals with the affairs of a young married man who preferred to remain in an asylum for the insane, where he could devote full time to his lifelong ambition of becoming a painter, rather than remain at home with a wife and father in law who had him committed to the sanitarium in the first place. It is chock full of rare and screamingly funny situations and yet it makes one wonder if these people who parade the stage mimicing the parts of asylum inmates are doing half so good a job as some others we know at large. There is a definite message that all of the nuts are not in the nut house. As the program quotes: "The dividing line between sanity and madness is so thin that it is invisible."

"Nude With Pineapple" is scheduled for a limited run only. The first night house was representative of practically every central California community, reservations having been received from more than eighteen counties.

Mrs. Myrtle Domenici of Peoria street entertained the members of the Delta Club, Tuesday evening of this week.

CO-PILOT ON TRAGEDY SHIP

Fred W. West

Fred W. West, 29, co-pilot of the plane which recently crashed into the side of a mountain near Bozeman, Mont., killing its ten occupants. Two woodcutters, C. A. Larson and Glenn White, said they saw the plane go into a tail spin and burst into flames as it struck the earth some 200 feet from them. West was the son of a San Francisco business man and a graduate of the University of California in 1934. The Wests' family home is in San Mateo.

Football and soccer players were also awarded their block letters at the same assembly. Those who had played for two years were also given sweaters.

TIMELY TOPICS

A radio speaker tells this one: After a candidate had made the same speech in a certain town for the third time, a wag presented him an empty watch case, inside of which was a note reading, "If you ever make that speech here again we'll give you the works."

Presumably as a joke, Lynn Leonard, a reporter of Wenatchee, Wash., started a subscription list to raise a fund for "the widow of the Unknown Soldier." Many patriotic citizens signed up without inquiring as to the identity of the widow."

Josef Hofmann, famed Polish-born pianist, now 61, recently gave a recital in New York just 50 years, less one day, after his American debut on the same stage, that of the Metropolitan Opera House. About 20 persons who heard him 50 years before were present at the golden jubilee concert, among them Dr. Walter Damrosch.

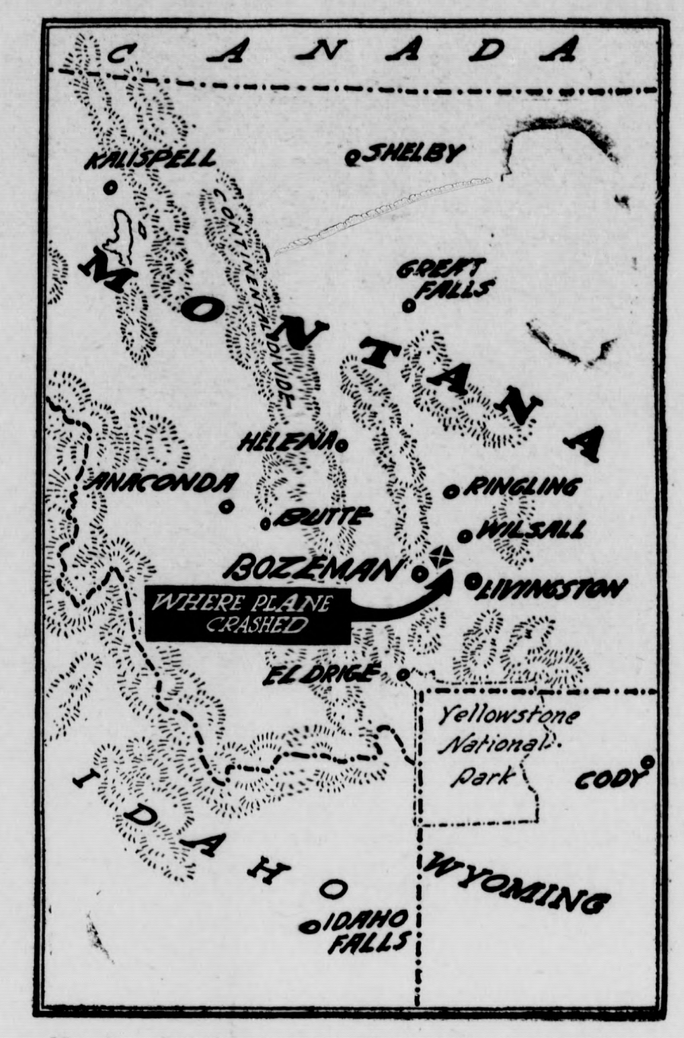
When invited recently to attend a performance of his own Saint Joan at Herts, England, George Bernard Shaw sent a postcard to the management which read: "Plays of that author do not attract me; I never go to one if I can possibly help it."

A dangerously absent-minded professor is Dr. Jacques Millot of Sorbonne University, Paris. He left a bag containing 60 live scorpions in a taxi, but fortunately an alarm was given before anyone was stung.

Andrew J. Volstead, author of the Volstead Act for the enforcement of prohibition, now 77 years of age, still practices law and does a bit of gardening on the side at his home in Granite Falls, Minn. He refuses to buy an automobile, and presumably is still an ardent dry.

Rat traps set on successive nights by Malachi Berry of Kingston, N. C., caught the family cat, a stray dog, a neighbor's cat, a goose, and the neighbor's cat again.

Ten Killed In Montana Plane Crash



Map shows location of recent plane crash in the Montana mountains which snuffed out the lives of ten persons. The huge transport plane, newly put into service, went into a tail spin and hit the mountainside head-on, according to C. A. Larson and Glenn White, woodcutters, who were close to the scene. One body was thrown clear of the wreckage, but the heat from the flaming plane was too intense to allow the men to effect a rescue.

Loyal Orange Lodges Install Officers

The joint open installation of the California True Blue No. 118, Daly City, and Harmony No. 127, San Francisco, Loyal Orange Lodges, last Saturday evening, January 8, brought many prominent East Bay and Marin County visitors to Daly City Masonic Temple when the Rt. Worshipful State Grand Master James Chestnut and his corps of state grand officers officiated in the colorful ceremony.

A supper and dance appropriately rounded off a pleasant evening, which was enjoyed and appreciated by all present.

A burglar who stole $1.25 from the home of Rev. Alan Ramsey of New Orleans sent the money back several days later.

comes elective. There can be no compatibility, yet under the consolidation measure, the two offices are one. This certainly was not the intent of the charter amendments."

Peterson expressed the opinion that the special legislative session would be called for next month by Governor Merriam. His charter amendments, making the office of executive elective and restoring to their former elective status the county engineer, coroner, tax collector, recorder and treasurer, become the law of the county as soon as ratified. The offices would be filled at this year's regular elections.

Meanwhile, District Attorney Ferrell rushed completion of his briefs for submission to Superior Judge Warren V. Tryon, who will decide whether Kelly is entitled to a full month's pay for December, setting the question of who is the purchasing agent.

Possibility that the supervisors will prefer specific charges against Kelly for his removal if the court decides in his favor in the salary madamus action, was mentioned this week.

Assistant District Attorney Sullivan, said Tuesday that consolidation of the office is the paramount issue, not the salary or Kelly's dismissal.

He said an appeal would be taken if the court grants Kelly's salary writ.

Success Of Play Attributed To Its True Depicting Of Conditions Of Share Croppers Of Former Days

"Tobacco Road," the outstanding stage success of the last twenty years, will be presented at the Curran Theater, San Francisco, for a limited engagement of two weeks, Starting Sunday night, January 16. John Barton heads the cast of the company, which is on its third coast to coast tour of the larger cities of the country.

Written by Jack Kirkland and based on the celebrated novel of the same name by Erskine Caldwell, "Tobacco Road" has stirred more discussion than any other stage play for many years. Its phenomenal success is attributed to the fact that it shows a truthful section of life among the penniless share croppers of the back country of Georgia. It is now in its fifth year on Broadway and its lengthy run has been equalled by only one other play, "Abie's Irish Rose.," in the entire history of the American theater. It has been presented in more than 150 of the larger cities of the country, including Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Washington.

"Tobacco Road" takes a typical family of tenant farmers living in squalor and poverty, ignorant of everything but sex and religion, and shows the humor and the drama to be found in the routine of their daily lives. So powerful is this drama that leading newspapers throughout the country editorially pronounced "Tobacco Road" to be "the epic American play." It has also been endorsed as an authentic and important American document by such literary celebrities as Theodore Dreiser, George Jean Nathan, Alexander Woollcott, Marc Connelly, Stark Young, Carl Van Doren and many others; and prominent clergymen have preached sermons urging their congregations to see the play as a portrayal of existing conditions. Its production led Congressman Kramer of California to introduce a resolution in Congress to investigate the condition of the share croppers, while the Julius Rosenwald Fund has set aside a sum of money for a similar investigation. As an example of modern realistic literature, the study of "Tobacco Road" in published form is required as extra-curricular reading in sixteen universities and colleges.

John Barton will have the central role of Jeeter Lester, the middle aged, shrewd, philosophic, lazy share cropper. Associated artists include Florence Gerald as Ada, the wife, whose only desire is "a stylish dress to be buried in;" Patricia Quinn as Sister Bessie, the middle aged missionary who induces the 16 year old Dude, played by Pitt Herbert, to marry her by promising him a new automobile with a horn on it; William Bishop as Lov Bensey, the coal chute worker and Sondra Johnson, as his 12 year old wife; Kay Thorne as Ellie May of the slit lip; and Lillian Ardell, Dick Lee, Walter Ayers and Rhett Townes.

It is said the appearance of this famous stage play will be the most important dramatic event of recent seasons.

A Frank Statement About Automobiles
by
Mission Auto Company

Three major manufacturers sell 9 out of every 10 motor cars in America.

Of these Walter P. Chrysler has contributed a greater number of important advancements in automobile design than any other manufacturer.

Think back a few years. Chrysler was first to introduce Hydraulic Brakes, Safety All-Steel Bodies, Floating Power engine mountings, Redistribution of Weight, Scientific Streamlining, and scores of other improvements now widely copied by other manufacturers.

No other maker can point to such a record of achievement.

What does this leadership mean to you? Simply this: The Chrysler you buy today gives you important new advancements that other cars will offer you next year, the year after, or the year after that. When you invest in a Chrysler, you invest in an automobile that will be as modern in performance—in comfort and economy—two or three years from now, as it is today.

Before you purchase any car, we believe you owe it to yourself to inspect the new low-priced Chryslers . . . discover firsthand how much more they give you for your motor car dollars. Mission Auto Company, Chrysler-Plymouth dealer, 6465 Mission Street, Randolph 0334.
